Online-Spracheinstufungstest

Assess language skills – fast, accurate, online

A service for universities and language teaching institutions onSET is an online language placement test in C-test format. It enables you to test proficiency in German or English quickly and accurately.

The standardised test procedure ensures consistently high quality and fair testing for all test takers. The placement result, analogous to the levels A2 to C1, is available in 40 minutes or less.

How does onSET work?

onSET consists of eight short gap-filling texts which are completed on the PC. The texts are displayed one after the other on the screen. Each text begins with a heading and an introductory sentence. Test takers have to fill 20 gaps per text. Each text ends with one or two complete sentences.

onSET in professional contexts

Universities and language teaching institutions use onSET to

- determine the language level of learners.
- allocate students to the appropriate language courses.
- assess suitability for language tests.
- record the language level of test takers for a scholarship.
- provide a language certificate for professional purposes.

Benefits for your institution

- Test scheduling, implementation and scoring are carried out online.
- Test results are determined automatically and immediately.
- Placement is based on the CEFR.
- onSET rests on a proven scholarly procedure.
